A THREE DAY weekend during which you can't go anywhere can prove very tiring indeed. We paped, painted, finished income tax preparation and all the while out in the driveway stood my beautiful new little red Pinto, almost out of gas. Frustrating, to put it mildly.

BE SURE to watch Channel 2 (KTVU at 9 o'clock this Sunday, Feb. 24. Albany's Jeff Foott, son of Elda and Ollie, photographed "Saga of the Sea Otter" in the Monterey area. A former mountain climber and guide in the Wyoming Tetons, Jeff is now a wild life photographer.

As he was filming the Sunday show, he became friendly with a sea otter and regularly brought it food. One time he did not bring it anything and it showed its anger by grabbing his camera. The repair job cost $200.

The half-hour film took Jeff more than a year to photograph.

A 1961 graduate of Albany High school, he now lives in Monterey but makes films all over for his employers, an English film company.

ANOTHER LOCAL BOY - MAKES GOOD story concerns Joe McKeown, D.D.S., '63 AHS graduate, who is now a dentist and the author of "Illustrated Guide for the Care and Feeding of Your Teeth." It's available from Happy Valley Apple Press, Box 456, Santa Cruz 95061.

BACK TO ALBANY Hospital - Mrs. Edna Varni, widow of the late Fire Capt. John Varni, is another patient at this popular gathering place for sick and well Albany folks.

POLICE CHIEF Jim Simmons says they have identified the man responsible for the Hoffelder Jewelry holdup and have a warrant out for his arrest.

SGT. GLENN THOMPSON made the press recently by capturing two juveniles who robbed two Independent-Gazette employees following a Trade Club meeting at the Veterans' building. Before the two victims finished giving the report to Albany police, Glenn had the boys stopped. You can't get much faster action than that!

MARY THOMAS, daughter of Merritt and Ivis and a sophomore speech and drama major at University of Redlands near Riverside, has the lead in "Butterflies Are Free," which opened a run of seven performances Feb. 13. She was in many plays at Albany High school.

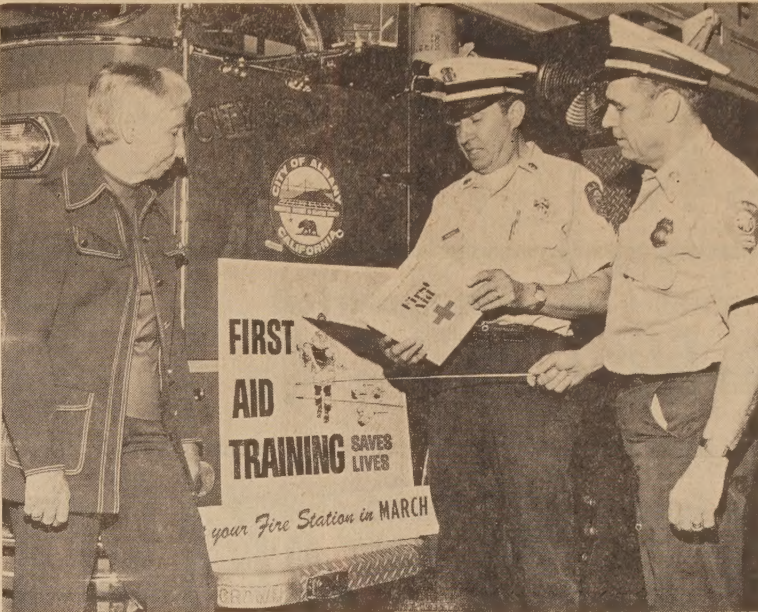

MRS. ROBERT MITHOFF of Albany is the newly-elected treasurer of Herriek Memorial Hospital Guild. Among those receiving pins for volunteer hours served at Herriek was Mrs. John Bosovich of Albany with 4,500 hours.

First Aid Classes To Be Taught at Fire Stations

"How to give first aid could be the most important thing you ever learn in your life," said Capt. Raul Miranda of the Albany Fire Department, urging everyone to take advantage of the free Red Cross Standard First Aid and Personal Safety courses to be offered in Albany and Berkeley fire stations during March as a special feature of "Red Cross Month."

The classes, co-sponsored by the cities' fire departments and the Berkeley-Albany Red Cross chapter, are a once-a-year opportunity to learn first aid at a convenient neighborhood location, Capt. Miranda added.

Especially convenient for Albany residents will be the evening course at the Albany Fire Department, 1001 Marin Ave., where classes will meet from 7 to 10 p.m. on five Tuesdays starting March 5. An afternoon course will be offered at Berkeley Fire Station No. 4, 1900 Marin Ave., with classes from 2 to 5 p.m. on five Mondays starting March 4.

Advance registration for all classes is required. The complete class schedule is available at participating fire stations and at the Berkeley-Albany Red Cross, 2116 Allston Way, Berkeley. To register, fill in and mail the registration blank on the class schedule sheet, or phone the American Red Cross, Berkeley Chapter, 845-1430. Enrollment is open to anyone at least 14 years old or who has completed the 8th grade.

Red Cross Standard First Aid and Personal Safety Certificates will be issued to those who successfully complete the course.

Instruction is free. Students will be asked to purchase a $1.95 Red Cross Standard First Aid and Personal Safety textbook at class and to bring a 2" gauze roller bandage.

All courses will be taught by firemen who are certified Red Cross first aid instructors and have had extensive experience in the field as part of their daily duties.

Instructors at the Albany Fire Department will be: Captain Raul Miranda, in charge of First Aid and Safety Training for the A.F.D.; Captains Thomas Oakley, Michael Koepke, William Lancot, Nestor Mestas and Fireman Frank Westphal.

Music Clinic For Students

Students from Albany and El Cerrito high schools attended the 24th annual Pacific Music Clinic at University of the Pacific on February 2.

Participating were band and orchestral students under the direction of Ernest Douglas and choral students under the direction of D. A. Hilsabeck all from Albany High School and choral students under the direction of Mrs. Tommie Sue Henderson from El Cerrito High School.

The clinic, attended by approximately 2,700 high school students from throughout California, is sponsored each winter by the UOP Conservatory of Music as an intensive program of rehearsals and performances under the direction of nationally-known choral, orchestral and band conductors.

Guest conductors this year were Randall Spicer, director of bands at Washington State University; Paul Salamunovich, director of choral music at Loyola University and Mount St. Mary's College, and Vilem Sokol, conductor and music director of the Seattle Youth Symphony Orchestra and professor of music at the University of Washington.

UOP was founded in 1851 as the first chartered institution of higher education in California. The Conservatory of Music was established in 1876 as the first professional school of the university. Programs are offered in performance, music education, music therapy, music history, and theory-composition.

Jr. Youth Group Holds Car Wash

Sixth, seventh and eighth graders of Grace Lutheran Church, El Cerrito are trying to meet a need of other youngsters in our area. The Grace junior youth group realized that other young people suffer with various handicaps, mental and physical. They chose a specific project to help.

On Sunday, February 24, the young people of Grace will have a car wash from noon to 3 p.m. at Chin's Arco Station, Solano and Santa Fe, Albany. For one dollar they will wash the exterior of cars.

The entire proceeds will go to the George Miller Jr. Memorial — West for the Mentally and Physically Handicapped, 2801 Hilltop Drive, Richmond. This facility is collecting money to build an indoor, therapeutic swimming pool. Children and adults enrolled at this facility have special health problems and handicaps that can be treated in a pool.

Mr. Chin has donated the space at his station. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hein are adult counselors for the group. Mr. William Batermann is Youth Director, and Ronald M. Rentner is pastor of Grace Church.

NOTICE

Last day to register for the April 9, 1974 election will be March 10, 1974. Registration may be done at the office of the City Clerk, Monday through Friday, 8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m., or at the Fire Department in the evening, and on weekends.

Persons approaching commercial and industrial establishments and representing themselves as Pacific Gas and Electric Company employees should be asked to show their company identification cards, the utility company cautioned today.

"We have had scattered reports of persons purporting to be PG&E employees entering businesses on the pretext that they were checking on compliance with the new regulation that limits certain uses of electricity," said Joseph Y. De Young, PG&E vice president-commercial operations. "These imposters may just be harassing or seeking to take advantage of businessmen. But in some cases, they may be 'casing' a place for a burglary."

In the past, swindlers have used the same ruse to gain access to homes to make so-called inspections of wiring and furnaces, De Young said.

"Our employees have plastic-laminated identification cards with their photographs on them," De Young pointed out. "They are instructed to show the cards upon request when making a call."

Persons doubting the identity of a person calling at their homes or businesses should call the local PG&E office to confirm whether the caller is an employee of the utility, he said. PG&E is responsible in its 47-county service area for enforcing certain statewide limitations on electrical uses that became effective January 30. Most of these restrictions apply to commercial and industrial establishments.

Albany Woman Potential Victim of 'Pigeon Drop'

A 78-year-old Albany woman was rescued from an $8,000 pigeon drop on Valentine's Day, thanks to alert employees of Bank of America on Solano Avenue and fast action by members of Albany Police department, assisted by three undercover units from El Cerrito Police.

The two women responsible were arrested in Albany. They may be responsible for as many as 18 successful pigeon drops and there are holds on them from two other cities, reports Police Chief James Simmons.

The Albany woman was confronted by one of the two, who said her husband had died and her daughter was back east. She said she had $8,000 and wanted to invest in a home in this area. The potential victim said she knew of no house available and eventually invited the woman into her home to call a realtor. At this point the second woman arrived with a bag, reporting she had found a great deal of money, which could be ill-gotten gains, such as racing money. She said they could divide it equally but the Albany woman would have to put up $8,000.

When the Albany woman appeared at Bank of America to withdraw $8,000, Michelle Dross, the teller, suggested a cashier's check. The woman said no, it was an emergency and she needed big bills. Ms. Dross called Doug Powell, bank manager, who became suspicious and called Albany police. They said to keep her there as long as possible. After calling El Cerrito police for cover, two Albany undercover officers went out to the area in unmarked vehicles to watch for the two women. Chief Simmons, Inspector Mel Boyd and Sgt. Archie Sterling plus other available officers went out on the case.

The Albany woman went home, then started back toward Marin. One of the suspects was waiting for her at Marin and Santa Fe. The Albany woman told her the manager thought it was a pigeon drop and the police wanted to talk to them. This news was reported to the other suspect when she drove up. She drove off west on Marin, only to be picked up by Albany police, who by then were everywhere. The other suspect took off on foot toward Marin and Cornell. She also was picked up. The police found the bag which contained phoney money. The car was rented in Los Angeles a couple of weeks previously.

The women, Susan Gay Brown, 25, of Venice, Calif., and Rossie Mae Brown, 26, of Los Angeles, both with several aliases, are believed responsible for a $15,000 "drop" in San Rafael and one for $35,000 in Sacramento. Their method of operation has been the same in all cases and they are wanted for questioning by Long Beach for a similar crime.

Simmons said the women were taken to Albany-Berkeley Municipal Court Tuesday, after which they were taken in custody by Alameda County Sheriff's department to be arraigned in Superior Court.

The Albany police chief expressed his appreciation to those at the Bank of America, who prevented another "pigeon drop" for an Albany senior citizen.

Fire Department Advises On Emergency Calls

Recently the fire department canvassed the entire city with a brochure which included a telephone sticker that contained the emergency numbers in reporting a call for either the police or fire departments. Additional stickers have been ordered and in the event a household contains more than one telephone and requires more stickers, these can be obtained by stopping at the police or fire department or by calling 525-7141.

When reporting any emergency call speak slowly and plainly, give address and tell extent of the emergency — then wait for any questions. Every building should have their address in plain sight and be unobstructed to the street view. Time is an essential factor when any emergency unit is responding and any delay which can be eliminated will be to the benefit of the individual requiring our services. The lighting of a porch light or a person standing by their household directing the responding units are most helpful in locating the exact address.

Day at Races to Benefit Kids

Children with chronic lung disease will breathe more easily when the horses run on Wednesday, February 27, at Golden Gate Fields. That's the day the Volunteer Guild of the Lung Association of Alameda County is sponsoring its annual "Day at the Races." Proceeds from the project will benefit the Children's Breathing Classes conducted by the Lung Association in collaboration with Children's Hospital Medical Center, Oakland.

Mrs. Oscar Sobol of Alameda is chairman of the event, which features admission to the Turf Club and a Terrace Room Buffet Luncheon for a donation of $7 per person. Tickets available at the Lung Association of Alameda County or by calling 893-5474.

Campfire Girls Plan Sale

Saturday and Sunday, February 23 and 24, an Albany Campfire group will be holding a garage sale at the home of group leader Mrs. Joyce Donnell, 950 Talbot Ave.

The girls, whose Indian name Yu-Jyo means True Friendship, will plan and carry out the fund raiser themselves. Gathering many items from their homes and from friends and neighbors, the group will sell white elephants, knick-knacks, household items, toys, clothes, and even a used couch.

Mrs. Donnell stated that although most of the activities of the group do not require money, some funds are necessary even for the purchase of craft materials. With a successful sale the girls will not only increase their treasury, they will learn the value of working together to ensure the success of a project.

The sale hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday, and from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday. The Campfire girls plan to have something for everyone and everyone is welcome.

Senior Citizens

By BOB DAVIS

If you are a senior citizen—and you are getting to be one if you are 50 years old or older—there is no need for you to sit at home and listen to your arteries harden. When we stay at home we tend to worry about our health, what the younger generation is up to, and the sorry state of the world in general. This is a bore. Why not come down to the Albany Senior Center, 846 Masonic Avenue, and enjoy the fine programs especially planned for seniors.

Today at 10:30 Mr. Jaime Vallecilla, the Albany exchange student, will speak on the subject "My Country, Columbia." Mr. Vallecilla has won for himself a warm place in the hearts of his associates in school and community. He has proven to be a marvelous ambassador of goodwill for his country. All senior citizens of the community are cordially invited to come and hear his talk.

Beginning at 12:30 Mr. Leo Vuosalo will lead his seminar on "World Affairs."

A whist party will be held Monday, February 25 beginning at 12 noon.

THE HENRY ACCORNEROS of Kensington announced the engagement of their daughter, Cheryl Anne, to Gregory Z. Myers of El Cerrito at a recent open house. Meanwhile in Merrillville, Ind., the parents of Carol Jean Smith, were announcing her engagement to the Accornero's son, Donald. No date has been set for Cheryl's wedding. Don will marry in August. The young people are the grandchildren of Mrs. Angiolina Accornero of Albany and the late William Accornero, and Mrs. Enrica Mapelli of Pleasant Hill and the late Angelo Mapelli.
